The Plume in which the Varieties of Fashion Will Array Themselves in the Coming Summer.

Costume Alike suitable for Present Year and for Cool Months of Weather—Fashion Notes—Telling all the Changes of Styles.

Fashions. Notes.

Satinette is the Paris name for asthon. Pink craps has been revived for bonnets. Pompadour flowered cretonnes are revived. Necklets of beads are becoming very fashionable.

Very little jewelry is worn with white costumes.

Walking jackets never go entirely out of fashion.

White and pale pink bonnets are most worn at receptions.

Steel and gold are the admitted combination for evening dresses.

Wall flower ticks reappear again in flowers and ribbons.

All young women wear short, untrained skirts.

Sashes of orange ribbon will be much worn with white blouses.

Trained skirts are worn only by married women.

Satin or satinette is the most popular fabric of Parisians.

Mother Hubbard is the fairy godmother of fashion.

The "Watson" is the favorite style for illuminated fouldred dresses.

Tassels and bows on kid gloves are worn with white costumes.

A new collarette, called the Medicis, is made of puffs of small lace.

There is a brisk demand for batistes, seerscups and gingambons.

Queen Charlotte collars of immense size are worn by English women.

Gilded bands and violet wood sticks are the most popular for rings.

Miniver and white feathers are used to trim black rough straw hats.

Steel appears as a part of the decorative of every dress.

Black cutouts are heightened with colur silk or bayadere striped goods.

Bright gold color, now to say yellow, is one of the most popular colors.

Little puffed pockets of embro and laydowns are in with sashes to match.

Alabaster cloth is the national material destined to rival chundah cloth and man's veiling.

Embroidery of the finest kind is considered more elegant on mull dresses than lace.

Black satin parasols are frequently edged with plaited satin ruffles of gold color or scales.

Satens and cambrics are most in demand at the moment than muslin, lawns, or organdie.

A great deal of imitation lace, as lace, enters into the composition of all dappaceous toilettes.

Figured delaines to match and combine with plain ones appear among the spring novelties.

Silked cuff edges with lace, accompany shirred collartees and fichus of the same materials.

Other shaded muslins are in demand for collar, cuffs, and revers of suits in sober or neutral tints.

Satin piping and other satin trimmings are in with black grosgrain ones with fine effect.

Embroidered are the most popular of suit and coat toilettes.

Shirtwaists with shirred yokes and belted fulness at the waist line appear among the late novelties.

Broad stripes, with the flowers and figures outlined in gold or silver, are used to brighten dark and dull-tinted toilettes.

New Summer Dress Goods.

For the foundation of most of even the handsomest evening and dinner dresses, especially for young ladies, they are the finest texture and most delicate evening fabrics. They are made in the same colors, as are the other fabrics, as gray, a favorite as during the winter. The newest color in cambric is a light blue.

The plain gowns are made up with the handsomest silk damask linings, with sash and belt, and with black grosgrain ones.

They are also made up with the handsomest lace, and with the handsomest of white and black stripes.

Skirted suits, with shirred yokes and belted fulness at the waist line, appear among the late novelties.

Broad stripes, with the flowers and figures outlined in gold or silver, are used to brighten dark and dull-tinted toilettes.

A Great Diplomat.

Those who think that Napoleon Bonaparte was more of a warrior than a diplomat, will be interested to learn that he was a master of both.

He was a master of the subtle art of politics.

He was a master of the art of war.

THIS a wonderful age—wonderful! Take the telephone, for instance. How could we get along without it? If we want to communicate with the outside world, all we have to do is just to go to our telephone, ring the bell twenty or thirty times, shout "Hello, hello" half an hour, hire a small boy with a pocket pistol, and then go over to Higgins with the information. If anything should happen to the telephone, we can always get another. We appreciate the invention that makes light our burdens!

The telephone must hit his diminished heart before the approach of the Croesus arioso. This is his swell name. When he is at home in his shirt sleeves, he allows fall and cold to penetrate his body, and he wanted to withstand the ravages of heat and cold, rain, frost and snow, and attempts to do so by wearing a coat of mail and carrying a sword. ## IV.

THE COUNT'S STORY.

"Five years ago I got married, and the hole in the person in question," asked the Count, confused in his turn; "and the hole in that picture is a souvenir of our last interview."

"For the love of God, dear, don't speak of it," cried the Countess. "It makes me shudder."

"About the hole in the person in question," I said, "I am a star in St. Petersburg."

"I am a star in St. Petersburg," repeated the Count, "but I have had a very bad time of it."

HOME MATTERS.

Next Monday evening is the regular meeting of the village council.

Remember the mammoth excursion to Peterboro' on Wednesday next.

Stirring will soon be burst of most of her young men, unless their "catch" in the air "die" to pieces.

O. D. Bedford, son of Gilbert Bedford, receiver of Sycamore last, here on Monday morning had the best of a bountiful harvest.

The crops throughout this section of the country are looking fine and the prospects are that we will have a good bountiful harvest.

The 49th battalion brass band will accompany the excursion from Bellefonte and intermediate stations to Peterboro' on Wednesday next.

The amount of telegraph business transacted during the last month has been as follows: General Telegraph Co., 107 messages; Dominion Co., 160.

A grove meeting will be held on the south shore of the Oak Hill pond on Sunday next by Rev. A. Martin, of Frankford. A number of persons will be baptised.

Quite a number of the residents of this village have got the North-West fever, and all know now in "where are you going?" Horace Greeley's advice appears to have failed to good ground.

Meers Miller & Clapp have commenced operations at their new house. They are fitting the ground cleared off and will be a day and will commence building as soon as the brick can be got from the kiln.

The hand were out a couple of evenings this week, practising drilling, under the instruction of Mr. E. D. Sutherland, their dragoon master. They intend keeping up the practice the remaining evenings of this week.

There were only about half a dozen applicants for membership to the piping corps presented themselves on the street corners on Sunday last. We will wait another week before publishing their names and see if there will be any more applications.

On Sunday morning last while Mr. Ferguson had one of his horses tied at his livery door, presented himself to Mr. George a boy about 11 years old, came out of the door of the stable into the stable, and in some way frightened the animal, causing it to kick, striking him just above the seat, making a ugly cut about four inches long. Mr. Ferguson, however, though the wound was not serious, thought the doctor said that if he had been struck an inch or two lower it would have killed him instantly.

A meeting of those interested was held at the Exchange hotel on Wednesday evening last for the purpose of organizing a band club. Quill Culumber were present and the following officers were elected: President, Chas. Boldrick; Captain, Wm. Shaw; Secretary, F. Loucks; Treasurer, Chas. Baker. The Secretary was authorized to purchase new bells and hats and also to make arrangements with some neighboring clubs for a match at an early date. The club will be known by the name of "Ironclads."

The Robinsons who escaped from the county goal a short time ago, and who since have been at their home in Madoc, returned to the goal of Wednesday last. Since escape they have been hating to two opposite ends—on the one hand, to return to their home and eat the large quantity of logs which they have had, and return and give themselves up. Better judgment at length prevailed and they returned. The Robinsons are known to be a family of young men as there is to be found in the county, being quiet and peaceable, except when they are run upon by the law, who will maintain their rights.

A race will be held on Friday morning next on the ground of the new M. E. church for the purpose of erecting a shed. You are invited.

Excursion tickets for the 5th can be obtained at Jas. McKee's, Milne & Clapp's, and from Mr. Butcher, station master and telegraph operator.

Work has been commenced on the canal at Chisholm's rapids. It is the intention to put in new gates and put the canal in a thorough state of repair.

The band of the 49th battalion have purchased another new instrument from Mr. Fletcher of New York, shaped like a trumpet.

The horn is a very handsome one and will be used by a very Hatchet.

In last week's issue there appeared an item in reference to a suit brought against Moses H. & J. Warren by a Toronto force paid firm. In this suit it is stated that Mr. Warren signed at the time the agent came to sign the document and did read it. This was a mistake, as Mr. Warren informs us that he saw the document written and stood by looking on when it was read, and that he did not pay for it, and when he was distinctly pointed out, that these words were in some way removed before he again saw it at the trial.

For the first time in the history of the turf, the Derby was won on Weymouth by an American horse, namely Mr. Pierre Lillard's colt Iroquois, by imported Lexington. On several previous occasions horses of foreign extraction had always won without success; therefore their better luck on this occasion will be received with satisfaction, as it has been earned by perseverance and skill.

It is as well, however, to remember that the first Derby winner was born and raised in England, and therefore was just as much an English horse as the Atlanta—which they claim to be American in all their essentialities.

The race does not always belong to the swift nor the battle to the strong.

The same rule will apply to selling goods. Men rush cheap shoddy goods on the market and their price attracts attention for a time, but their growth is of the mushroom order, it perisheth by the light of reliable dealers, who sell a dollar's worth for a dollar. They are the only class that will last and retain the confidence of the public. I claim to be one of the latter class and will be found in the old place with my stock up to the usual standard.

granted Mr. B's forehead, ploughing up the skin, but not otherwise injuring him. Dr. Wright, however, thinks that the bullet must have hit him in the head and fall together and conveyed to the county goal at Cambridge the same night. The affair causes the greatest astonishment in Campbellford, as Mrs. Pettigree has always been considered a woman of irreproachable moral character, and whose personal paramour is not known. She is reported to make a living fair being a rough, burly, unprepossessing and uncultured farmer.

HOME MATTERS.

Easiness is dull.
The county council is in session at Belleville.

Mr. Boldrick has hopes of being in his building in August.

The county of Hastings holds sixty-seven post-offices. And yet we are not happy.

The regular meeting of L. O. L. district No. 2 was held in the lodge-room, Stirling, on Tuesday last.

The eclipses of the moon last Saturday night were witnessed by a number of moon-struck residents of Stirling.

The sidewalk has been built in front of Mr. C. E. Stick's house that was ordered by the council some time ago.

Mr. Graham is making eight scrupers for the township of Rawdon, and the columns for Milne & Clark's new building.

Potatoe have about reached bottom prices in Belleville, having been sold for 25¢ per bag. At Stirling they are from 25¢ to 30¢.

Mr. Bosanko and Mr. Howard, of Hastings, the latter of the Star, paid a visit to THE NEWS yesterday afternoon. Wednesday, being down with the cricketers.

Quarterly services in the M. E. church next Sunday, leave-foot, 9:30 a.m.; communion service, 10:15; preaching by the presiding elder, Rev. J. C. Curtis, at 11 a.m.

Wednesday afternoon while Mr. S. Mundell was helping to lift a stick of timber at Mr. Boldrick's new block, it slipped and fell, badly lancing one side of his thumb. In the recent election in East Northumberland Mr. Kennedy's expenses, as published, were $196.42; of Mr. Crozier, $142.17. The elected man got off the cheap.

Brother Vesper, editor of the Campbellford Herald, has been prostrated with fever and ague. We trust he may soon be restored to his usual livelihood, if not already so.

A fine festival under the auspices of the band of the Presbyterian church will be held in the school grounds on Monday evening next. Ice cream, lemonade, etc., etc., will be for sale, and the band will be present and play some of their favorite airs. A good time is anticipated. Admission, 10¢.

We were favored on Monday last with a call from Mr. J. C. Robertson, of the staff of the Peterborough Times, who was working up an indictment of Mr. F. W. Stirling for the first of July by the five brigades of that town. A very original item in the programme is a list of "bulleagues athletic sports." The pamphlet posters were printed at the Times office. Mr. R. is secretary of the brigade, hence his trip.

An interesting article concerning the "terrible racket" of two young men in THE NEWS Annex, for leading a horse, and defending them, but as this writer has not forwarded his name, it has been duly consigned to the waste-basket. How often need intelligent readers be told that soliciting can get into this paper unless we are quite sure of their authority? The letter too, would have to be made less personal in its nature.

We do not know to whom to credit the following, but it contains truth as well as alteration:

"Proverbial Philosophy—Persons who patronize papers should pay promptly for the pecuniary prospects of the same. The popular papers in pushing forward public interests, etc., etc., etc., etc., paid promptly, and his pocket-book is kept plethered by prompt paying patrons, he puts his pen to paper in peace; his paragraphs are more frequent and pointed; he paints his picture more vividly; his pen more pluming color, and the portion of his paper is a pleasure to the people." Past the pitiful paragraph into your pocket-book so that you may profit by its profound precepts.

At the recent meeting of the Ontario conference of the C. M. church, the following were appointed for this section: Bellville—Bridge st., W. Jeffers, D. D. Blodcker st., R. W. Barnes, B. L. Holden, J. T. Sherry, J. H. Smith, J. Wilkinson (Chairman), Thurlow—J. Kilgore (Chairman), G. W. Leggett, Marmon—S. McCauley, Stirling—R. Walker, J. A. Wood, Franklin—P. D. Will, Trenton—E. Clement, Woodstock—F. J. Williams, W. W. H. Peake, French—J. W. Savage, Bridge water—W. E. Smith, Melton—J. McFarlane, Madoc North—S. Dunn.

A serious runaway accident happened at Madoc on the morning of the 9th. Three young ladies, Miss Cosby and Miss Peter, of Millbridge, and Miss Hale of Banockburn, teachers, were driving in a carriage, when the horses ran away, driving the carriage over the road, and turning the corner at the mill, the horses ran away. The buggy struck the pump opposite the Orliflynn block, throwing the three out. Miss Cosby had one leg broken, and the other was considerably bruised. Rev. Mr. Baker is a resident of Madoc, and has many friends in and around Stirling, who will regret to learn of her mishap. She formerly taught the third department of the Stirling public school.

We have received a copy of the prize list and regulations of the Donibriston exhibition to be held in the city of Halton on the 10th inst.

The Donibriston exhibition is under the patronage of His Excellency the governor general and other distinguished personages, and will be conducted by a committee consisting of the mayor and members of the city council of Halton, the provincial board of education, the Royal Canadian and other associations, and prominent men in the several industries.

Cash prizes to the extent of fifteen thousand dollars will be awarded for horses and other valuable machinery of all kinds, manufactures, forest, mining, farm and sailing products, fruits and flowers.

There is no charge for entry of exhibits, nor for space. Prize list and blanks for entries may be obtained on application by post card to Mr. W. McKeown, secretary, Stirling.

CRICKET.

On Wednesday last, as announced, the Hastings cricket club paid Stirling a visit for the purpose of having a friendly game with our boys. They arrived for the 10:15 train, being met at Stirling by the manager of the club, Mr. W. J. Stirling, and the Stirling club, conducted by the Clubhouse.

After dislodging the moles they all proceeded to the field; Hasting's winning the toss, sent Stirling to bat; B. F. Wicher and G. A. Skinner taking the wickets against the bowling of Lancaster and Fowlds.

The second ball in Lancaster's first over took the wicket of D. Allen, and the ball was caught by D. Allen behind the stumps. Wicher and Fowlds for 3; G. A. Skinner, after having made a good effort, was out by a bouncer from the bowler of Lancaster and Fowlds.

"An old trick repeated," is rather pointed.

"Some time since there was published a circular signed by S. Martel Davies, reflecting on a character of the work done by the Canadian Publishing Co. of Belvidere, and describing it as not being up to mark for a week ago in the columns of the Globe," under the heading of "An old trick repeated."

FACTS AND INCIDENTS.

PEOPLES do not always know what they say. Such, it may be presumed, was the case with the builder of a church in a London suburb, who, by his own account of his health, which had been prodded, retorted: "I am more fit for the sofa than the pulpit."

A dispatch from Paris states that the picture represents "Christ Before Pilate," the latest work of Munkacsy, the Hungarian artist, and that by French critics to take rank as the greatest painting of the year. Crowds daily stand in awe before it, and 200 francs has been offered for it when completed.

A MEXICAN at Las Vegas, New Mexico, had fainted firmly to a board, leaned her head against a fence, took a position fifty feet apart, and practised his rifle practice. He did not hit his object but he brightened her by imbedding the bullet in the board.

The last project of tunneling Mont Blanc bade fair to assume a Ganglione shape; it being pronounced by some of the most eminent French engineers a practical under-taking. The cost of the tunnel, according to estimates of cost for executing such a work, in the case of the Simplon, $7,000,000, and in that of the Mont Blanc, $12,000,000 less. It is furthermore claimed that the Mont Blanc tunnel will make the journey from Paris to Geneva, Germany, or even to Milan, forty-four kilometers shorter by the Simplon, and that the tunnel of the projected tunnel that far in the direction, from Chamonix to Courmayeur.

A movement is on foot in England to permit clergymen of the Established Church to sit in Parliament as members thereof. Of course, the lower clergy receive rights, and a certain number of them have the right to sit in the House of Lords; but higher clerical powers have been disallowed for men in the trades.

This is probably a relic of the times when the upper classes were but a sort of upper servant to the lower.

It is reported that the clergy have given up their right to sit in the House of Commons since those days, and naturally relied best on the subjects of what they esteem an individual usage.

The report of the Inspectors of Fisheries in Ireland, just issued, presents many indications of the growing importance of this branch of the fishing industry. No fewer than 4,600 vessels belonging to the country with a total crew of 23,679 men and 869 boys, were last year engaged in the trade.

The commissioners reported to have been employed on a flat match matrimonially for "my half's wain-gentlewoman." The clergy have given up their right to sit in the House of Commons since those days, and naturally relied best on the subjects of what they esteem an individual usage.

The Bishop of Lismore has expressed a desire to have the effect of the revised New Testament on young clergymen and others educated in ignorant persons.

The Bishop wants to see if it is not yet permissible to use or even to read the New Testament until the Old Testament has also been reviewed.

The New Testament revision is before the Church of Ireland, and the whole work has been approved by the clergy and laity will it be ripe for action.

The authority has been ascertained and the Bishop does not seem to be at all certain as to whether it will that authorisation be given.

In this case the Bishop departs from the new and the old version.

PRINCE ARTHUR's words of life and death were to him an incentive to active service with some regiments somewhere, but this ambition was thwarted by his mother and Mr. Gladstone, as was his desire to go to fight for the Queen.

All that he can do is to attend the overland route of dimmers, castles, and towers, of gorges of towering rocks, of docks, and passing at meetings of benevolent societies, making an appropriate speech whenever he can think of it, and bring up the Queen, taking on her a slight consideration with another, the Prince's lot is not a happy one.

But he is good, and we hope he may long keep up the pleasant hand of his boyhood in writing to the Queen regularly every day.

The question of removing the German from Berlin is still being discussed by the German Government.

More over, the feeling of German unity has been weakened at Berlin under the domination of the Prussian party.

If other German towns were enabled to enter into those personal relations with the assembly of the German Empire, the monopoly of which is claimed for Berlin.

The Algemeine Zeitung of Augsburg also advanced the view that Berlin was the capital of the United States.

A Remarkable Journalist.

Stockton Mail.

The most remarkable newspaper man in the United States is Angelo Cane, in Calcutta, India. He is a twenty-five-year-old man.

He is twenty-four years old, and has been paralysed since he was born.

He was born in a small town in India, from town to town, once when he went in search of medical aid, but failed to find any. His parents died when he was a child, and he has no home now.

He is a cripple, and it is only with difficulty that he can move.

In early life he was taken on a long journey with another, and he became ill.

Clarion, Meredith! It was a great name, I thought, and I had half forgotten it.

I was taking such a risk in taking such interest in strangers, I finally, as I imagined, dismissed the subject from my mind.

HOME MATTERS.

The Chelbagan Democrat heads its masthead column "The World," the nation and the devil.

A very ornate duck egg is being passed around among "the boys." It is on exhibition at Parker & Hewat's.

The Grand Junction time-table for Stirling station, corrected for the new arrangement, will be found at the head of this column.

The Masons of Belleville are having an excursion to Midac and the mines to-day. Some of the brethren from this section are with them.

The captain and secretary of the Zion Hill baseball club were in Stirling yesterday trying to arrange for a friendly game with Stirling club.

The Stirling cricket club intend giving a grand entertainment about the middle of July. Look out for the programme, which is going to be a good one.

Parker & Butler have colored the walls of their drug store with alabaster, the colors being white and yellow pink. The effect is excellent. They have the alabaster for sale in pack packages.

The various Sunday schools of Stirling intend to unite and have a grand union picnic in Shaw's grove on Tuesday, July 5th. It will be basket style, and free to all. Particulars will be given by poster at a early date.

Long absent (pronounced Dross) with out quite fitting the gong) has already eaten his potatoes of his own growing as large as hen's eggs. That Frenchman is away doing something no one else can. But it never occurred to him to pass along a pick or so to The Nine-Acre.

On Monday last the Grand Junction rail way was placed in Midac. Mr. McLean, and the agent and manager of trains, will adjust as to enable a traveller to leave Stirling at 3:12 o'clock p.m. and reach Toronto at 11:45 p.m., going by way of Peterboro, thence to Port Hope, thence by G. T. to Toronto. This in many cases will be the greatest convenience.

The two Trent papers are still quirking and quacking at each other. It has now come to a question of "financial standing." The Advocate shows its hand last week, and challenges the Courier to do the same.

The former speaks truthfully, and makes a home threat, when it says: "We have a hard life into the Advocate owing to the fact that we have also forced new life into the Courier."

Complaints are numerous about the sides of the wall around Mr. Boldrick's new block. General consent is universally given to me improving places with fine buildings to us as much of the street as is necessary; but when the new building is completed, completion outwardly that this wall has the privilege should be no longer abated, the sidewalk should be cleared or renewed, and traffic allowed to resume its old way.

The action of fire insurance companies in the case of the Quebec fire will be looked for with interest. We are glad to learn that the Sovereign Telegraph company has telegraphed direct to Quebec that all losses will be paid on presentation, amounting to nearly twenty thousand dollars. Prompt action by the insurance companies will be a boon to the sufferers, and no small gain to the future business of the companies.

The Globe says: "With characteristic promptitude the Sovereign fire insurance company of this city has telegraphed its agent in Quebec that all the losses will be paid on presentation, amounting to nearly $20,000. The agent will be followed by the company's will, we trust, be followed by the rest of the country, so that relief may reach the sufferers as speedily as possible. In such a calamity he who gives quickly gives doubly. Mr. Glass is agent for this company at Stirling."

The ladies of the Baptist church hold the first strawberry festival of the season to-night at Rev. Mr. Dowling's house. Among the attractions will be the ascension of a mammoth balloon from the grounds. Tickets admission, 10c, each.

The friend of Mr. D. D. Duerland, who has had for two years been headmaster of the Sterling union school, will congratulate him on his late appointment to the superintendence of the graded schools of the city of Chelbagan. He is a native of that city, and Mr. Sanderland's literary attainments eminently qualify him to fill this new and important position, and we join his well-wishers in extending a hearty desire for his future prosperity. He expects to leave Stirling in July.

The Grand Junction train now arrives and departs from the Midland station, commencing to-day, which fact gives the presents a very business-like look. At present the Grand Junction trains cross at the bridge at Auburn, and the cars run over the bridge to the junction of St. Smith street, and trains will then cross the old Cobourg railway bridge. A small building is to be erected near the junction of the two roads, and a telegraph operator stationed there to look after the safety of passengers.

The food-drinkers reaped a rich harvest at their usual haunts on Monday evening last, clearing the handsome sum of $50. Although the evening was cool, yet the demand for refreshments was so great that the supply was completely exhausted before after the close of business, and the supply which still has been larger. The hand did good service. During the evening two raffles took place, one being for a pair of slippers, won by R. G. Smith; the other for a cushion cover, worked in wool by Mrs. Skinner, of very novel and pretty design, won by Miss Helen Parker. One gentleman took a large number of tickets, being bound to win, and then lost them.

The Argus' Herald is the name of an invaluable large 16 page monthly paper published at Philadelphia, Pa. As its name indicates, it is of special interest to those acting as agents for firms at a distance, who by reference to its columns can more accurately ascertain whether a particular market is good or bad.

The Argus' Herald is mentioned in the latter class, and is doing an excellent work.

The May number appears in a new dress, and is otherwise greatly improved. Over 75,000 copies of that issue were disposed of. Any agent or other wishing to protect himself against loss, should subscribe to the Argus' Herald, which is only 50c. per year, or 10c. per single copy. Address 717 Sassafras street, Philadelphia, Pa.

We have been informed upon good authority, that cannot be doubted, and have also been shown the instructions to the engineer, that the property at Chisholm's rapids, lot No. 9, owned by Mr. Armstrong, is to be laid out in village lots of one quarter of an acre each, the village to be known by the name of "Travellers." It is also intended to lay out a number of small stock company is to be formed for the purpose of erecting a mill at the rapids, and Mr. Edwards, civil engineer, has received instructions from those interested to take the levels and see what fall of water can be had for milling purposes. This looks as if Captain Armstrong, and Chisholm's rapids may yet become a business centre of some dimensions.

Godoy's Lady's book for July is a gem in its entirety. The fashion plates, steel plates, general illustrations and the literary contents combine to make this old favorite leader of the fashion periodicals the best that is before the public.

Quite a lengthy entertainment news from the pages of "Seeantwood" and the usual columns of the Argus' Herald.
